Type of project: Large-scale evs:

A Large Scale (EVS) is the Action of Erasmus + program. The main objective of this programme is to support international large-scale volunteering during European or worldwide events. EVS program brings young people from different countries the opportunity to get volunteering experience abroad. During our EVS, we choose to use the self-management method, where participants have to provide themselves to cook food and to prepare and make the activities following the agenda and the pre-departure preparation made with the sending partner and the group leader. It means that everybody is involved in the process to create the project, having tasks, responsibilities and rules (that participants decide all together). The activities will be run by the non-formal method (games, role games, team building games etc.) to learn by having fun.

This non-competitive sports championship was created in 1997 to fight racial and gender discrimination, promoting the values of sport and multiculturalism. The main aim of the project is to promote active citizenship, social inclusion and solidarity by involving the volunteers in the organization and management of Mondiali Antirazzisti and by promoting volunteering among youths and stakeholders. The project will emphasize the value of peer-to-peer education in promoting healthy lifestyles, as well as highlight the values of anti-discrimination and intercultural dialogue. The project is better described among a volunteering and a work camp, and is in an open space rounded by hills for camping.

Mondiali Antirazzisti has experienced a constant growth in the number of participants and in the 2013 edition over 8,000 people and 200 volunteers from more than 50 nationalities have participated.

The volunteers will take part to the whole organisation and to the implementation of the festival, in particular in logistics and practical aspects (cleaning, helping in the kitchen, arranging festival spaces).
